New Minister Appeals For End Of Labor Strife

First act of Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer today as Minister of Labor for British Columbia was to appeal to labor and management to display moderation and co-operation "so that an end can be put to the strife which is threatening inconvenience and suffering to the public and serious disruption of the economy of the province."

Mr. Wismer was sworn in as Minister of Labor to succeed Hon. George S. Pearson, who is continuing as Provincial Secretary and Minister of Health and Welfare, at a brief ceremony at Government House today at which Lieutenant-Governor Charles A. Banks officiated.

"I have agreed to accept the portfolio of Minister of Labor with a deep sense of the very serious responsibilities involved," said Mr. Wismer in a statement. "I make no pretence of being a miracle-worker, but I have confidence that much can be accomplished if the problems are approached in a spirit of genuine co-operation by all parties—labor, industry and the government alike," he continued.

WOULD SET UP BOARD

Stating it was too early to make a definite statement of policy, Mr. Wismer made these observations:

1. He intended to recommend to the government the immediate appointment of the board provided under the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act which became law last May 15, and this board will have "outstanding representatives of labor and industry, and an able and impartial chairman."

2. He believed this board could make an important contribution to industrial peace.

3. He would make an immediate study of suggestions that provisions of the I.C.A. Act made unnecessary delays in conciliation proceedings, saying that if such a condition does exist it will have to be rectified.

4. He would make an exhaustive study of administrative experiences under the act "and if amendments appear to be necessary in the interests of all concerned, they will be introduced at next session of Legislature."

"In all these matters I propose to consult the leaders of both labor and management and to hear representations on their behalf, as it is most important that the viewpoint of both sides should be considered not only in laying down policy but in any changes contemplated in the act itself," he said.

"In the meantime, however, it must be recognized that the act as it stands is the law of the land, and it is the government's duty to enforce it. Any other position would not be in accordance with the principles of democratic government."

The ceremony, which took less than two minutes, was witnessed by Premier John Hart, Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb and Mr. Pearson.

Wismer Takes A New Tough Job

Victoria Mapping Plans To Carry On Vital Services During Bus, Tram Strike

Victoria today is making arrangements for emergency transportation services to carry on during the threatened strike of bus and streetcar operators.

Royal Jubilee Hospital authorities although hoping that some last-minute settlement of the transportation dispute will be effected, are making tentative plans for the bringing to work of hospital employees.

A full plan has been worked out by the post office department to have mail delivered although deliveries in most residential districts will be cut from two to one per day.

Staffs of the police and fire departments in Victoria will largely have to shift for themselves, but no disruption in these vital services is anticipated.

Members of the Royal Jubilee Hospital staff who have cars will be asked to spend part of their time as "taxi drivers" and bring in other employees in their neighborhoods, it was learned. There has been some talk of chartering an independent bus should it be found that private cars are not enough to bring in all the staff members.

During the last strike of transit workers here, private cars were found to be reasonably satisfactory in bringing staff members to the hospital.

At St. Joseph's Hospital, Sister Superior Rose Marie, who is in charge, said that the hospital's car and truck would be used to bring in members of the staff, and it was hoped that those employees with cars would assist in bringing to the hospital their fellow employees.

It would be impossible for the hospital to transport all its employees, she said.

While as yet having made no formal request, Sister Rose Marie said she thought it would be a good idea if the army and navy assisted in bringing hospital employees to work.

Mayor Percy George said that the city would leave it up to the employees to organize their own transportation to and from work in the event of a strike.

Both Police Chief J. A. McLellan and Fire Chief Robert T. Brindle reported that no special arrangements would be made to bring in police and firemen to work.

During the 1945 transit tie-up no special arrangements were made yet the departments were able to carry on successfully, the members relying largely on fellow workers to bring them to work.

Suggestion of the Street Railwaymen's Union (A.E.L.) that any person who offered a ride to persons who normally rode on B.C. Electric buses or streetcars would be considered unfair, will go unheeded in the Greater Victoria area, it is forecast.

And it is expected that some children, who have been riding bicycles to school, now will have to walk, as their machines are commandeered by their fathers.

Blast Harbor Bed For New Wharf Here

One hundred and fifty pounds of explosives bursting beneath the surface of Victoria Harbor send a huge column of water hurtling into the air, as blasting operations are conducted at the site of the new fishermen's wharf now under construction at the foot of Erie Street. A minimum depth of eight feet has been achieved by the blasting and dredging of the harbor bed. To the right of the water column is the floating rock drill of the B.C. Bridge and Dredging Co. Ltd., contractors.

Hopeful Sign At Conference On Tram Dispute

VANCOUVER (CP)—A last-minute attempt was under way here today to avert a transportation tie-up in Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria as a conference opened in Acting Mayor Charles Jones' office at City Hall.

No statement was issued at the luncheon adjournment, but the fact that the disputing parties agreed to meet again this afternoon was taken as a hopeful sign.

At the conference were representatives of the Street Railwaymen's Union, the B.C. Electric Railway Co. and civic and provincial government authorities.

It was the last hope for settlement. If agreement is not reached, it appeared certain that the carmen would call their strike to take effect before the week-end.

Butter Prices Fall In Toronto Stores

TORONTO (CP)—Butter prices were reduced by as much as three cents a pound in several large Toronto stores today as a result of what dealers said was normal adjustment of supply and demand.

Would Go To Russia

WINNIPEG (CP)—Many Russian-Canadians across the Dominion are thinking of returning to their fatherland, H. Okulewich, national secretary of the Federation of Russian Canadians, said today estimating between 30-40 per cent of the federation's membership of 5,000 are thinking of returning to Russia.

To Quit Holy Land

LAKE SUCCESS (CP)—Colonial Secretary Arthur Creech Jones today told the United Nations his government wants to make clear "beyond all doubt and ambiguity that not only is it our decision to wind up the (Palestine) mandate but that within a limited period we shall withdraw."

Reprieve To Nov. 19

VANCOUVER (CP)—William Henderson, 17-year-old gunman slated to die on the gallows Oct. 22 for slaying Constable Charles Boyes during the Feb. 26 False Creek gun battle, today was given a reprieve to Nov. 19.

His appeal is scheduled to open Oct. 20, based on two points: whether Henderson and two companions attempted to hold up a bank or abandoned the scheme and whether Henderson's refusal to answer an officer's questions constituted resisting arrest.

French Shipping Paralyzed; 40,000 Sailors, Dockmen Quit

PARIS (CP)—A strike of 40,000 merchant seamen and shore workers for wage increases halted virtually all shipping in French ports today as the government strove desperately to cope with Paris' crippling transport strike.

One-tenth of Paris' subway workers, represented by two independent unions, voted to end their three-day strike, despite the appeals of the Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor (C.G.T.) to stand firm. The C.G.T. controls the key personnel and could halt efforts for a partial restoration of service.

In most ports, French and foreign vessels were forced to dock without the aid of tugs. Nine vessels were blocked in Bordeaux and four at Le Havre by the strike, in which seamen seek 15 per cent wage increases. Other vessels were caught at Marseille, Cherbourg and other ports.

Socialist Premier Paul Ramadier, noting that France's municipal elections will be held next Sunday, has suggested the subway and bus lines strike was politically inspired.

Careful, Tovarich

It would be just too bad for this bearded Russian sailor if he were caught reading such capitalistic literature at home. When his schooner, the Kaimar, en route from Los Angeles to Vladivostok, had a stopover in Honolulu, he caught up on his reading—in the Wall Street Journal.

Calgary To Ship Only Meat For City

Meat-hungry Victorians will really have to hustle after this week to get any meat, other than poultry, as the last of the packers' representatives here report they have received their final shipment of meat until the settlement of the strike.

Gainers Ltd. received two carloads of meat this week, which will be all gone by the week-end. Pacific Meat Company received their final shipment from the Vancouver plant last week and report their shelves are completely cleared out now. Gainers say they will have no more once the two carloads have been distributed.

Three of four Victoria stores have made arrangements to obtain some supplies direct from Calgary where two plants, Union Meat and Ketchin Brothers, are still operating. Their employees belong to A.F. of L. unions and are not on strike.

Green Re-elected

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—William Green, 74, was re-elected unanimously today as president of the American Federation of Labor at a convention session notable because of the absence of John L. Lewis and all officers of his United Mine Workers.

Green has been re-elected unanimously each year since 1924 when he succeeded to the A.F.L. presidency on the death of Samuel Gompers.

Plan Calls For Immigration Of Whole Families

Plans for settlement in British Columbia of family units and whole communities from Great Britain to help in the development of the province, and at the same time help the British government solve the problems of shortages and over population, were presented to the B.C. government today by George Wadsworth, M.P. for Buckrose riding in East Yorkshire.

In conferring with Hon. L. H. Eyres, Minister of Trade and Industry, Mr. Wadsworth outlined a plan to be known as "Operation Pilgrim," a plan destined to bring 10,000,000 of Britain's excess population to Canada to help develop the Dominion's natural resources.

Migration of family units was stressed so that the burden in Britain would not be left on an ageing population as it would if only young single men emigrated from the country.

"Britain cannot possibly hope to get out of her difficulties and keep up the standard of living as it is at the moment," the British M.P. said. "With a population of 50,000,000, and an estimated capacity of supporting only 30,000,000, the solution lies in the immigration of sections of the population to less densely populated areas of the Commonwealth. With 740 people to the square mile in England and Wales, as compared with an average of three in Canada it is obvious that both countries would benefit from the scheme."

Britain Would Supply Plants

British industry would provide industrial plants to employ British workers to develop Canada's resources, under the proposed plan.

A businessman as well as a member of parliament, Mr. Wadsworth said: "I am convinced that the answer to Britain's economic problems is to stop building new towns in the Old Country, and build them near the source of the great natural wealth in our Commonwealth."

He and G. M. Holdsworth, his traveling companion, are interested in British Columbia and Alberta as possible locations for the scheme. They are driving up island as far as Nanaimo to see something of the Vancouver Island lumber industry. They will leave tonight to retrace their steps across Canada, and to do as much as they can to interest Canadian industry and the Canadian government in their plan to help the British Isles through what Mr. Wadsworth considers to be "the worst beginning of the worst auster period which they have ever known, even including the wartime period between 1939 and 1945."

Transportation Tie-up Would Cut Mail Delivery Here To 1 Per Day

Most residential areas of Greater Victoria will receive but one daily mail delivery if and when the strike of transportation workers is effected.

J. B. Sinclair, acting postmaster, said today that a complete plan for emergency transportation of letter-carriers had been worked out and it was ready to go into operation at a moment's notice.

Arrangements have been made to have letter-carriers and other post office workers with automobiles pick up fellow workers to take them to the post office in the morning. Mr. Sinclair said that the car owners would be reimbursed for this service.

Others will be brought to the post office by the mail contractors.

The mail contractors will also carry the letter-carriers out to their beats.

"We have made detailed preparation," said Mr. Sinclair. "The plan is all ready."

Letter-carriers rely heavily on urban transportation facilities not only to get to the post office and pick up their mail for delivery but also to ride from the post office to the route on which they deliver mail.

The slowdown caused by lack of these facilities will make it impossible for the post office to provide more than one daily delivery in most residential areas, Mr. Sinclair said.

Find Suspicious Package On Downing Street Sill

LONDON (CP)—A small tin containing a grey powder which might be explosive was found today on the sill of the Commonwealth Relations office in Downing Street and now is being examined by Home Office experts.

A Scotland Yard spokesman said it "seemed to be a very amateur affair," and added that it might be a hoax. However, he said he was unable to say definitely until the Home Office report was received.

The tin was placed near a door through which pass Philip Noel-Baker, Secretary for Commonwealth Relations, high commissioners visiting him, and department employees.

HANDED TO POLICEMAN

The tin was three inches long by two-and-a-half inches wide and was noticed by a passer-by who saw that it was attached to the sill by a length of adhesive tape. He handed it to a policeman.

"The find caused no excitement in the Commonwealth office," he said. "We just heard it was there and now it's gone, so why worry?" said an employee.

About 50 yards farther along the dead-end street is the Prime Ministers' residence, where police are always on duty.

Standard said it had received further details of an alleged conspiracy by Palestine terrorists against the life of Foreign Secretary Bevin. The "plot" was officially denied when the Standard first reported it Monday.

The paper said threats also had been made on the lives of Hector McNeill Minister of State, and Arthur Creech Jones, Colonial Secretary, both of whom are in New York, where extra armed Federal Bureau of Investigation guards had been placed on the two ministers.

CONSTANTLY GUARDED

In London, the paper said, Scotland Yard had checked and reviewed the arrangements for guarding Bevin. Armed detectives provided a continuous round-the-clock watch on the Foreign Secretary.

News of the threats was received in London four or five days ago, the Standard said. Special agents in Palestine reported the terrorists were likely to open a new campaign against Britain following the decision to withdraw troops. Their main target was Bevin, the Standard claimed.

It was "certain" that the terrorists had agents in Paris who might attempt to reach Britain.

Abandon Plans For State Drive In London After Royal Wedding

LONDON (AP)—Plans for Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten to drive through London streets in a state carriage after their wedding Nov. 20 have been canceled as a safety precaution, it was learned today.

The Royal Family resolved upon the cancellation, qualified sources said, after being informed by the cabinet that Scotland Yard and the Home Office felt such a drive involved risks, "doubtless remote," which should not be taken.

They were to have made a short swing through the central part of the capital, either in an open landau or "glass" coach, after the ceremonies, in Westminster Abbey, for the benefit of crowds which might not otherwise see them. Under the revised arrangements, they will return immediately to Buckingham Palace with the King and Queen.

"It isn't that anyone expects anything untoward to happen," one source said, "but the police and other authorities simply do not care to take chances."

WATCH AT PORTS

Meanwhile, special detectives and officials at Britain's ports are keeping close tab on new arrivals so that undesirables may be prevented from reaching London. One official said the coming of so many wealthy and distinguished guests, including foreign royalty, was bound to attract international crooks and stir up the domestic ones with dazzling hopes of loot.

Authorities realize also that political or racial agitators—even terrorists—might try to exploit the day, and therefore are on guard against such possibilities, too, the sources said.

The departure of Elizabeth and Philip for their honeymoon destination—as yet unannounced—will entail extraordinary security measures, developed jointly by the police and the Buckingham Palace security staff.

Hopes Of Uniting Rival Groups Believed Dim At Doukhobor Probe

SOUTH SLOCAN, B.C. (CP)—Hopes of uniting rival factions in British Columbia's 17,000 Doukhobors dimmed as orthodox Doukhobors today continued to monopolize the Royal Commission probe into the bitter, strife-laden Doukhobor problem that has sent increasing waves of terror rolling across the picturesque West Kootenay district for the past 40 years.

More than 300 Doukhobors plodded over rain-drenched roads to crowd into the small grey community hall here and watched tensely as John Verigin, youthful secretary of the Union of Spiritual Communities of Christ (orthodox) returned to the witness stand he had occupied since the hearing opened last Tuesday. He was scheduled to be followed by George Soukeroff, another orthodox spokesman.

ANOTHER SESSION OCT. 28
The probe will be adjourned following today's sitting until Oct. 28 to allow Judge H. J. Sullivan, of New Westminster, appointed commissioner by the B.C. government for the probe last month, to return to the west coast city to preside at a trial there. Still to be heard are Radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobors, independent members of the sect and interested public bodies. Further hearings will be held at Nelson, Castlegar and Grand Forks.

On Wednesday the slim, handsome secretary unleashed a biting attack against the Sons of Freedom group, laid the blame for recurring outbreaks of arson and violence in the sect's settlements on them and bluntly announced his organization would never approve union with the Sons.

"All we ask of them is to leave us in peace," he declared. John Verigin brought startled gasps from the tense, attentive crowd by reading into the official records of the hearing a series of warning notes received by leaders of his organization from 1931 to 1941. Some of the notes warned of impending bombing attacks—one signed "Canadian men," ordered the Doukhobors to "get out" of Canada.

Magazine Gift Subscriptions Very Popular Christmas Present

More Magazine Gift Subscriptions were given as Christmas presents last year than was ever anticipated by leading publishers. The great popularity of Magazine Gift Subscriptions is based on the fact that magazines are liked by every member of the family and the giver does not have to shop for hours trying to choose suitable gifts. Once the order for a Gift Subscription has been placed the purchaser does not have to worry about wrapping the parcel with tissue paper, tying with attractive string, placing on expensive stamps and taking to the mail box.

The exceptionally large selection of magazines on today's market leaves no field of interest untouched. For young boys and girls there are many fine magazines and comics. Ladies of every walk of life are interested in the many world-famous women's magazines now available. The men folk would enjoy a subscription to a sport, mechanical or one of the many outstanding magazines for men.

A Magazine Gift Subscription is not only for Christmas Day; it goes on saying "Merry Christmas" each month for the following 12 months. Victoria and district leading magazine dealers are now accepting Magazine Gift Subscription orders.

Lovick's News Agency, distributor for famous magazines throughout Victoria and Vancouver Island, suggest you place your order as quickly as possible to avoid disappointment.

Army Parachutists Radio Word Out On Wounded Missionary

WINNIPEG (CP)—Moffat Inlet Wednesday night broke its 11-day silence, sending first word of how Canon John H. Turner, seriously injured 400 miles north of the Arctic Circle, suffered his injury.

Though at a loss to explain how the four Canadian army men who parachuted to the Anglican missionary's assistance Oct. 4 had been able to break their wireless silence, officers at the army's Prairie Command headquarters today hoped additional word would come through. Wednesday night's message, signed "D'Artois," contained only a description of how the missionary had accidentally shot himself, but nothing of his present condition, nor of the group's plans.

"D'Artois," presumably, is Capt. Guy d'Artois, army paratrooper who parachuted to the lonely mission post 1,700 miles north of Rivers, Man., from where the joint R.C.A.F.-Army rescue flight began Sept. 25. With him were Capt. Ross Willoughby, army doctor, and two army signals sergeants to man the party's radio communications.

The message said Canon Turner's rifle went off accidentally when it slipped from his arm as he opened the door to his lonely home after a seal-hunting trip. The bullet lodged in his head, causing paralysis of the left side.

Eskimos in the area made two trips by boat to Arctic Bay, 75 miles to the northwest, to summon help from the Hudson's Bay Company factor there. Factor John Cormac, who accompanied the Eskimos back from Arctic Bay, used them the second time to relay his messages for medical assistance to his radio operator.

The latter's signals, picked up in Ottawa, Winnipeg and Edmonton, led to the joint R.C.A.F.-Army rescue project.

Taxation Deputy Resigns From Office

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King announced today the government had accepted with regret the resignation of Frank H. Brown as deputy minister of national revenue for taxation. Mr. Brown's resignation became effective Oct. 15.

A successor to the post has not been named. A statement from the Prime Minister said that in view of medical advice that continued work in his position would result in a breakdown in his health, "the government had no choice but to accede to his wishes."

Painful Piles

I can help most pile sufferers. I believe I can help you too if you want relief from the itching soreness and burning pain of piles. My Hem-Roid formula is different. Hem-Roid is an internal treatment, a small tablet taken with a glass of water. It helps relieve some of the conditions inside your body that cause you such intense pile soreness and pain.

But I'll be honest with you—there are some cases where Hem-Roid does not seem to help very much. I refuse to ask people to pay for something that does not help them. If Hem-Roid helps YOU surely it is worth the small cost. If it does not help you I want you to have your money back. I will take your word. I find people are honest about such things. Simply go to any drug store and get a package of Hem-Roid. Use it as directed for 10 days. Then if you are not satisfied return what you did not use and get your money back. This is an unusual offer but Hem-Roid has been sold on a refund promise for over 40 years. I am not asked to make many refunds so Hem-Roid must help most people who use it. Try Hem-Roid now. It won't cost you a penny if it does not help you.

Newfoundland Convention Told Finances Strengthen

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Newfoundland's economic situation came under review today by the national convention as a report went before the 44-man body describing the island's financial position as the strongest in its history.

Study of the report, hanging fire since last April, brings the nationally-elected body to grips with its first task, examining the position of the country, "bearing in mind the extent to which high revenue of recent years has been due to wartime conditions."

The second task, recommending to the British government possible forms of future government to be put before the people in a national referendum next year, will be grappled with when the expected terms of federal union with Canada are submitted early next month.

Confederation, investigated by a delegation which spent 100 days in Ottawa during the summer, and restoration of responsible government are the possible choices to be placed before the people, who have been under commission government since 1934.

Since the convention first met 13 months ago it has been assembling information needed to reach its conclusions, and speakers hinted Wednesday it was nearing the end of its task, with the most important function just ahead.

Industry Tax Drops, Land Tax Up, Port Alberni Ratepayers Hear

PORT ALBERNI—The ordinary taxpayer's land and property taxes were increased this year, while taxes on local industry were reduced, according to figures given the Port Alberni Ratepayers' Association meeting Tuesday by H. E. Murray, secretary, reporting on a survey he made of municipal taxation.

The tax derived from local industry would be $4,000 less this year because industry enjoys a fixed assessment and the rate on improvements has been lowered from 45 to 35 per cent, Mr. Murray claimed. He said in the last five years the average ratepayer's taxes have been doubled and the assessments greatly increased.

"The extra burden was shifted to the property owners," he stated.

Mr. Murray recognized that the city council must seek sources of revenue, but gave the opinion that "inequitable taxes" are imposed in Port Alberni.

In his review, Mr. Murray traced the course of taxation in history. He told his listeners that sometimes excessive taxation in the past had led tax-gatherers to the guillotine.

A motion by the meeting commended him for the study he made.

Street-Lighting Plan Unsatisfactory To Alberni Council

PORT ALBERNI—Dissatisfaction with a plan submitted by the B.C. Power Commission for improved street lighting was expressed by Port Alberni City Council Tuesday.

Answering a city query regarding street lighting, local manager C. W. Nash submitted an outline which proposed that ornamental standards be installed and maintained by the city.

Council was not in favor of installing and maintaining the lights, or of the disclosure that cost of lighting the proposed larger bulbs would be increased considerably. The matter was referred to committee.

Mr. Nash informed council an immediate start on the plans would not be possible owing to shortage of materials, particularly wiring.

To Inspect Sproat, Central Lake Roads

PORT ALBERNI—Roads in the Sproat Lake and Great Central Lake areas will be inspected by the government at an early date, is information received by C. Freethy from E. Smith, district engineer at Victoria.

Answering a 150-name petition sent recently to Minister of Public Works E. C. Carson on the state of roads in the areas, Mr. Smith's letter stated the petitioners would be notified when the inspection is made.

Residents report a grader has been on the roads several times recently, but that the surfaces remain smooth for only a short time.

Luxton Ratepayers Discuss Drainage

LUXTON—Formation of a drainage district will be discussed by the newly-formed Luxton Ratepayers' Association, following a recent meeting in Luxton Hall at which a recommendation of Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works, that a drainage district be formed through an Incorporate Improvement District, was heard.

Cmdr. C. T. Beard, M.L.A., seconded Mr. Carson's recommendation, stating that ratepayers would get a more willing hearing, according to a delegation of ratepayers who interviewed the latter at the buildings.

Residents told Mr. Carson of the need for cleaning out of Billston Creek and of the danger of floods. The meeting to be held in the near future will discuss the effect, if any, a move for an improvement district, would have on the taxation of Methosin, Happy Valley and Luxton areas.

H. Reid, J. Housman and H. Williams were the delegation of ratepayers.

Alberni Studies Chlorination Cost

PORT ALBERNI—Ald. A. D. McGillivray, Alberni water works chairman, has disclosed chlorination of Alberni water will be necessary and that prices on chlorinating equipment are being sought by the city.

The action follows a meeting of the council with Dr. J. A. Taylor, medical health officer, who later informed the council that tests taken over more than a year show that Alberni water is below accepted health standards.

Dr. Taylor pointed out several methods of purification—filtration, ozone treatment, chlorination and ultra violet radiation—but stated chlorination is probably the cheapest method.

Protest $852 Bill On Alberni Fireboat

PORT ALBERNI—Protests were heard at city council here following receipt of a bill from A. Crozier, collector of revenues for the Port, for a further $852 as sales tax on the fireboat purchased from the U.S. Navy several months ago.

Councillors pointed out the boat had done great service during the recent fire at the government-owned assembly dock and should not be taxable to such a great extent.

Mr. Crozier's letter explained the boat's cost to the city had been set at $7,311 in American funds, and that the charge of $1,705.92 in sales tax must be increased by the further charge.

The sales tax question and a suggestion to turn the boat over to the newly-formed Port Alberni Harbor Commission were referred to committee for further discussion.

Investigating Flight Of U.S. Plane Downed In Mid-Atlantic

NEW YORK (CP)—Its second mercy mission in two days accomplished, the United States Coast Guard cutter Bibb sailed towards Boston today, but its time of arrival there was uncertain due to impending storm conditions.

Coast Guard headquarters here reported a seaman stricken with appendicitis was transferred to the Bibb today from the sister cutter Duane. He was reported in good condition. The Duane was en route to replace the Bibb at its mid-Atlantic weather station where Wednesday it completed rescue of 69 persons from the downed flying-boat Bermuda Sky Queen.

After the rescue, the abandoned flying boat was sunk by the Bibb's guns as a menace to navigation.

Meanwhile, the Civil Aeronavics Board said in Washington that it was investigating the flight of the plane, operated by American International Airways, to determine whether it violated a new regulation prohibiting international air passenger operations by non-certified carriers.

In London, where newspapers voiced demands for an inquiry into the near-disaster, the Ministry of Civil Aviation disclaimed any responsibility, declaring through a spokesman that under provisions of the International Civil Aviation Organization the decision to conduct an investigation lay with the country in which the aircraft is registered. "In this case," the spokesman said, "that is the United States." British newspapers asked whether the plane had sacrificed fuel load for "pay load."

Richard Strauss Goes To London To Bolster Failing Finances

LONDON (AP)—Richard Strauss, the composer, who thinks music is all that counts, has come to London at 83 to earn some money. He needs it for the rent.

If the world had kept a steadier course, Strauss might have been able to spend his last years dreaming in some pleasant chimney-corner. But, instead, life in his ripe years has become a succession of hotel rooms, mostly in Switzerland.

The man who gave to the world the music of "Rosenkavalier," "Don Quixote," "Salome," "Elektra," and "Don Juan" has troubles with the landlord.

TO CONDUCT IN LONDON

His old friend, Sir Thomas Beecham, conductor of the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra, has arranged a sort of Richard Strauss season. Highlights will be concerts of Strauss music by the Philharmonic Orchestra this coming Sunday and by the BBC Symphony Oct. 29, conducted by the composer himself at Royal Albert Hall.

In London after many years—"in another world and at another time"—the composer made the agreeable discovery that while the public had more or less forgotten Strauss the man, Strauss the Philharmonic, who recognize music is still loved.

The temperamental artists of a master when they see one bowed to him deferentially. He was touched by a letter from a London waitress who sent him a money order for 10 shillings ($2) because she said she had heard he was in distress.

Strauss' blue eyes dimmed a little as he read that letter.

"The situation isn't quite that desperate," he said.

A rich library of musical works, composed over a long career, has earned and is earning a great deal of money, of course. But in lands where music is remunerative, especially in Britain and America, the revenues are being held by custodians of enemy alien properties.

As an Austrian citizen, Strauss' earnings have been collecting funds which may be claimed for the reparations demand on his country. He expects there will be a settlement which may concede him something some day, but not in his lifetime, he fears. Meanwhile, there is the landlord.

No Cut In Taxes For 'Haunted' House

APSLEY GUISE, Beds., Eng. (AP)—Municipal Councillor Q. W. M. Richards held today that B. Key's house was haunted, but the town tax committee overruled him.

Key applied for a tax reduction on the ground the ghosts of two murdered lovers were reported hanging around the place and thus lowering its value.

Richards sat up at night with spiritualists and psychic researchers to make a personal investigation and said he was satisfied "the place is haunted."

Richards reported on medium, G. Kenneth, said he had heard screams, saw a "ghostly, grey face" and a "tremendous black horse." Mrs. Florence Thompson, another medium, said she had made contact with a beautiful girl. G. Kenneth, who is writing a book about haunted houses, said an old man showed up and whispered in his ear.

Local legend has it that the 300-year-old mansion is haunted by the ghosts of a girl and her lover who were locked up in a cupboard and left to die by the girl's father.

The committee, however, confirmed the assessment at its previous rate. The authority's valuer, G. V. Bean, testified: "I inspected the house in daylight. I have no knowledge whether the house is haunted or not and cannot help the committee any further than that."

WHAT OF MAJORITY RIGHTS?

THIS WOULD SEEM TO BE A GOOD time for the people of this and other democratic countries to ask themselves what is behind all the strikes that are plaguing them and why there should be so many threats of other strikes to follow. This is not to suggest that intelligent citizens here and elsewhere are totally oblivious of the pernicious infiltration of concepts of public conduct which follow fairly closely the totalitarian pattern. On the other hand, it is to suggest that many men and women, who ought to know better, ignore their own obligations when they show a definite inclination to leave the discussion and disposition of such matters solely to the men and women whom they elect to deal with their business in the legislatures. After all, the parliaments of British countries, the Congress and the state legislatures of the United States, the elected chambers of the western continental European countries are the servants—certainly not the masters—of the people who go to the polls and exercise their franchises and constitutional rights at frequent intervals.

Nothing in the foregoing is either new or novel. But a state of affairs now exists—and we are realizing it at the present time in British Columbia and elsewhere in Canada—which emphatically demands of the general public much greater thought and attention than it is receiving. Let it be understood, however, that it is not our intention to enter into a dissertation on the merits or demerits of the present industrial discontents that are causing a great deal of concern to the people of this and other democratic lands. It is nevertheless timely to point out at this critical juncture in the world's progress that some are paying more attention to the advice and guidance of a small number of highly-paid leaders of certain trades unions than they are to their own long-term interests and the immediate and future interests of the great bulk of populations that are seriously inconvenienced from time to time without being given a chance to voice their opinions.

It would be presumptuous on our part to try to set up a case against workers now on strike in Canada, or to try to lecture that section of management which may or may not be treating labor intelligently. But it is obviously within the province of this and other newspapers to say categorically that unless some just and sensible method is discovered by which the frequent interruptions to vital production in the Dominion may be eliminated, economic and political chaos sooner or later will be the harvest. To be sure, adequate legislation already is on the statute books of the country to deal with labor-management problems, and so prevent these all-too-frequent industrial, economic, and social dislocations. But, in recalling this patent fact, it must be said that those authorized to invoke the law seem to be growing progressively hesitant in carrying out the explicit instructions which those who elect them have approved through the customary parliamentary procedure. Calling strikes illegal—and many of them obviously are if the legal terms mean anything at all—will be a waste of words unless the appropriate procedure is followed to give effect to popular will and popular demand.

All the foregoing notwithstanding, however, it seems to us that in Canada, at any rate, the time has arrived for the Canadian people to make up their minds as to what influence is impelling and emboldening a handful of men of domineering and dictatorial demeanor to tell 999 out of every 1,000 what they shall do, when they shall do it, and how they shall do it. For it can be taken for granted that the average person in this free country of ours is getting utterly fed up with a condition under which he or she never knows whether there will be this or that commodity available when he or she has the money with which to buy it, or, locally, whether he or she must resort to Shanks' pony as a means of locomotion between home and work while suitable means of modern transportation lie idle.

CRADLE OF THE DEEP

HUMOR AND IRONY are included in the postscript to the message sent by a United States Coast Guard rescue ship reporting that the passengers had been safely removed from a Boeing flying boat downed in mid-Atlantic. Briefly describing the plight of the men, women and children aboard the plane, "mostly prostrated by seasickness," the message added: "Baby appeared to have stood ordeal better than the rest."

Mother Nature's own special defences must have been working to protect the most helpless of all the human beings involved in the air-sea rescue. Untroubled by an imagination to magnify and anticipate the dangers; unable to interpret the words of worry and the feelings of anxiety in those around it; and probably oblivious to the pounding of the seas, the lurch of the craft and the cold October winds; the infant was secure in a world of its own—a world which, to all intents and purposes, had its boundaries at the edge of the surrounding blanket.

This was no emergency, no untoward happening or misfortune, so the infant may have reasoned in its dim little consciousness. This plunging, splashing, crowded place was just the unfolding world, to be accepted and experienced like any other environment. Inside that blanket, everything was under control.

WHAT DO THE WIVES THINK?

AFTER HON. HUMPHREY MITCHELL, federal Minister of Labor, had addressed a political meeting in a small New Brunswick village last night in behalf of the candidature of Minister of Fisheries Gregg, he was asked by a member of the audience: "What is the government doing about high prices?"

Mr. Mitchell replied: "The solution is in greater production. It is no use for labor to have a 40-hour week and holidays with pay unless these benefits are matched by greater production."

In the foregoing question and answer resides a major labor-management difficulty—which is putting it mildly—because inherent in all it entails is a large crop of economic imponderables whose potent bars are aimed straight at the roots of our free society.

Canadians in the mass have more money now than ever before in history. There is nothing like enough goods on which to spend it. When will some of the vociferous agitators be taken in hand by the housewives of those workers who still think it is economically smart to jump through the strike hoop every time the whip cracks?

SOUND CHOICE

THE MANIFEST RAMIFICATIONS OF labor issues today, more particularly the controversial sections of the British Columbia act—known originally as Bill 39—obviously demand the talents of a legal expert. Under these circumstances, and in view of the recent ill-health of Hon. George S. Pearson, the selection of Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer as Minister of Labor is logical.

The formal departure of Mr. Pearson from that portfolio will be regretted by thousands who appreciated his admirable direction of this important department for so many years. That his services will not be entirely lost to the cabinet will be a source of gratification to those who recognize his abilities and fairness. All will hope that release from former exacting duties will facilitate his return to full strength. As Provincial Secretary and in the position of Minister of Health and Welfare his sage counsel is guaranteed for the benefit of this province.

Mr. Wismer, who combines a robust constitution and a lucid legal mind, brings a wealth of specialized knowledge and general experience in public affairs to the tasks which confront him in his new office. He can be expected to approach the problems which vex both government and public on the labor front with appropriate courage.

END OF THE LINE

IT WILL COME AS A SHOCK TO MOST Victorians to know that if they accept a lift to work next week—if the B.C. Electric drivers' strike should become effective—they will be considered "unfair." Unfair to whom and for what? The average citizen will take it as a piece of impertinence on the part of Street-Railwaymen's Union officials, that, having put a whole city to the inconvenience of a halted transportation service, he or she should be called "unfair" if a friendly lift is offered or accepted. Did the union officials consider possible "unfairness" to the thousands of office clerks, shop girls, housewives and workmen who use the buses and streetcars when they called for a strike to enforce their own will? Do those officials, in their wildest dreams of personal grandeur, think that everyone in Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster is going to throw their support to the transportation workers' strike by staying home patiently until the union has won—or tried to win—its battle? The strike leaders should get one foot back on the ground.

NEW RESPONSIBILITY

IN AN AGE THAT IS MIRACULOUS IN certain spheres of endeavor, Greater Victorians have seen among the more satisfying "miracles" the successes accomplished by the Queen Alexandra Solarium at Mill Bay. There, small, twisted bodies have been restored to some semblance of the normal, and there the bright light of human courage has shone from young eyes looking with confidence into a better future.

Because of the inspiring accomplishments achieved at Mill Bay, men and women of good will throughout British Columbia have made donations to this worthwhile curative establishment, feeling they were serving an ideal as well as a very practical purpose. The calls on public generosity will be heavier if the work of the Solarium is to be expanded on the basis of present plans. For that reason the appointment as administrator of Mr. T. W. S. Parsons, soon to retire as Commissioner of the British Columbia Police, is particularly appropriate.

Mr. Parsons is widely known throughout this province. From his countless friends in British Columbia and from his friends' friends additional support should be forthcoming for the Solarium.

Maybe somebody has found a way to contaminate miles of coastal waters and kill all fish. Destroying food supplies is effective warfare.

Remaking History

By JULES ROMAINS
of the French Academy

IT USED TO BE the practice—I do not know whether it is still done today—for certain medical professors in hospitals, when a death occurred among the patients and the case was especially interesting, to assemble their student doctors and say to them: "You know the illness of which the patient died. We did our best but we could not save him. It was too late. The disease had been developing for several years. We know from his record approximately what he had done, or had not done, in the matter of treatment and general habits before coming here. Now! I want you to tell me how you would have proceeded if you had had him as a patient, say, five years ago—when the illness could already be diagnosed, but when there was time to act."

THE IDEA BEHIND this method was clear. The professor wanted first of all to remind his students that a doctor must never accept results as inevitable. Even after the event, it is mental laziness to regard it with retrospective fatalism. For it not to have happened, perhaps all that was needed was a little more insight, or skill, or boldness, or a stricter watch on the patient.

But the discussion which then began among the students, guided by their teacher, was certainly an excellent opportunity to exercise both their critical sense and their professional imagination.

IT IS INDEED regrettable that the professional training of statesmen—insofar as any exists—has nothing analogous to this. I should like to see every group of students in political science given a problem of this kind from time to time by their professor: "If, in the year 1800, you had had the destiny of France in your hands, if, for instance, you had been First Consul in Bonaparte's place, and your aim, limited and reasonable, had been to consolidate the gains of the Revolution by overcoming the hostility of the other countries and reassuring England, what would you have done? What continued policy would you have adopted?"

Or "Go back to the Europe of 1930. Do not underestimate the difficulties and dangers of all kinds with which it was beset, in the political, economic, social and even ideological fields. But try, even so, to find out whether certain solutions could not have spared the whole world a new catastrophe."

YOU WILL TELL ME that such criticism in retrospect is found here and there. Perhaps. But very rarely is it done with a completely free mind and with no mental reservation of personal apology. It is either old statesmen claiming that their ideas should have been followed or factions seeking only to show up the blunders of other factions.

And yet only this constructive criticism and this courage in accepting responsibility, have any instructive value. It is too easy to say. So and so was wrong; they acted foolishly. It is also the searching for that proof which, together with the objections it would raise and have to solve, would be of the greatest intellectual benefit in the training of a future statesman. It would tend to develop in him two virtues which are seldom found coexisting: realistic prudence and bold imagination.

OF COURSE, THIS research might meet the most discouraging objection of all: "In the situation under study, no serious and sincere arrangement could be envisaged, for the very good reason that at least one of the parties was not interested in reconciliation and intended to resort to violence when the moment seemed ripe."

But would it not be at least some result to cast doubt upon a maxim which we are too ready to abuse and which might be stated thus: "When a situation in the past has led to a catastrophe it is because the conflicting interests were irreconcilable, because the difficulties were basically insoluble"? Is it not a step forward when we can say: "I beg your pardon! In the case we are considering the reconciliation of opposed interests and the solution of the difficulties was never seriously sought, because one of the parties refused from the beginning, being ill-willed and untrustworthy."

IF, FOR EXAMPLE, by means of a thorough discussion, you show that in 1930 none of the difficulties of Europe and the world was insoluble, you may provoke a good number of those who were responsible at the time, but you will also provide the governmental and political specialists with new arguments, both to use against themselves in combatting their own timid imaginations, and to use against their adversaries. You will also give the whole thinking body of humanity a useful theme to reflect upon: "It certainly seems," people will say to themselves, "that the Europe of 1930 was really not the prey of inescapable fatalities. And since the fatalities that they tell us caused the catastrophe are almost all based on factors capable of correction it was only a question of pseudo-fatalities. The rest was a matter of good will and good faith. And no matter how poor the solutions had been they would have been a thousand times better for all concerned than the terrible upheaval which was unleashed instead."

IF PUBLIC OPINION, if humanity, could be led to reason thus, it would begin to see present problems in an entirely different light.

'Imperialism, I Call It!'

A Proposed European Customs Union

By JAMES G. FÉVRIER

ON Aug. 17, Herve Alphonse, speaking on behalf of France, proposed to the Committee for European Economic Co-operation (the Committee of the Sixteen Nations) the establishment of a European Customs Union. It was a bold step that might have far-reaching results if it were favorably received. Mr. Alphonse suggested that a committee be set up to study the question or better publicize its point of view on the subject.

Finally, he let it be known that France would be ready at any time to proceed with the formation of a customs union with Italy, whatever the other countries might do. This last proposal seems to have been well received on the Italian side.

DOWNWARD TREND

International policy, under pressure from the United States, is tending toward the lowering of customs barriers. This trend resulted in the meeting of a preparatory commission in Geneva last April. The International Trade Conference to be held in Havana in November, 1947, will resume the study of this problem. It is clear that the tariff freedom advocated by the United States will have a good effect on international trade and on price levels.

But there is a great danger that it will bring about the ruin of many European industries which do not have a sufficient domestic market to be able to do without the protection of duties. The establishment of a general European Customs Union would eliminate this objection and go a long way toward freeing trade.

A second reason, this one of a political character, in favor of such a project is that it would tend to allay the uneasiness and bitterness that still exist between victors and vanquished of the late war, that it would create an atmosphere of accord and co-operation between these peoples.

OBJECTIONS

Objections, as one may well imagine, are numerous. We can pass quickly over those which are raised in all countries by certain producers who always fear outside competition and want to maintain a protectionist system at any cost. Others who argue against the proposal do so on political grounds. They fear that it aims at the establishment of a "bloc" directed either against the U.S.S.R. or against the United States.

It is easy to reply that western Europe at present has neither the inclination nor the means to challenge the great world powers and that, moreover, a customs union of this kind would be open to all. Others point out the fact that it is hard to envisage customs unity between countries which do not have the same currency, where price levels are different and where, moreover, prices and exchange levels may be upset at any moment by an unbalanced budget.

HARMONIZE POLICIES
It is true, indeed, that such a union would oblige both governments and large producers' associations to get together, to make reciprocal agreements, in brief, to harmonize their economic and financial policies. But this is not such a frightening prospect for Europe's future. On the contrary, it is most desirable. Besides, there would be no reason not to proceed carefully, grouping the countries in gradually increasing numbers, or even limiting tariff freedom at first to products of certain industries.

In any case, as Mr. Alphonse did well to point out, the moment is ripe for the study of such a solution. The very gravity of the problems with which we are faced should make us forget objections of a sentimental nature, inveterate habits and local interests. Things may be very different in a few years. We must seize the opportunity before it is too late.

Europe was one of "elemental human survival in a free society." But Senator Taft, on a tour of the west, said he didn't think Congress could do much before January because many members couldn't get back in time for a special session. Some of them, he pointed out, were touring throughout the world.

The congressional leaders were impressed by Mr. Truman with the choice of appropriating $380,000,000 for emergency relief or seeing communism sweep Europe. But Senator Lucas said that, unless Congress got some facts it didn't already know, he was afraid that a special session would be devoted largely to politics and the 1948 elections.

Surely, if all these dire warnings are true, it is time for something a little more drastic than committee meetings. Aid to Europe, aid which is important to this country as well as to Europe's cold and hungry, cannot be given unless Congress appropriates money for it.

Congress cannot appropriate unless it is in session. The President has the constitutional power to convene the legislators now. Yet he has passed the responsibility to congressional leaders. And Senator Taft, in this day of 300-mile-an-hour air travel, despairs of the junketing congressmen reaching Washington before the regular session on Jan. 6.

OUT OF CONTROL?

The President has said that emergency aid is necessary to prevent a communized western Europe. It is the bipartisan concern of Mr. Truman and the Republican Congress to see that Europe escapes that fate.

Yet both the President and the Congress seem to treat the crisis as if it were a five-alarm fire that can be put out by a bucket brigade. The overwhelming evidence to date is that the European situation is a conflagration perilously near getting out of control. It would seem to call for swift, decisive action.

Global Survey

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

ANXIOUS inquiries are coming to this column from folk who want to know what has happened to the ideal of "one world"—whether the drift toward "two worlds" means that "one world" is out.

Apocryphal of this general thought, we have some searching current observations from two of the most widely known statesmen of the day—former State Secretary James F. Byrnes of the United States and Britain's wartime Prime Minister Winston Churchill. Few were privileged to know as much as they about the relations of the Big Three during the late conflict.

Byrnes states in connection with his book "Speaking Frankly" that "there is room in the world for the ideologies of Russia and the United States, just as there is room for the people of the Soviet and the United States. The U.N. is our best—if not our only—hope for reconciling the differences that exist between us."

PEACEFUL BUT FIRM

Churchill expresses the view that the Soviet Union and its satellites may "quit the United Nations Organization." Then, he says, "there would be what is called two worlds, and we should be sorry to see that. But if one of these worlds (the democracies) is far more powerful than the other (the Communists) and is equally vigilant, and is also sincerely desirous of maintaining peace, there is no reason why a two-world system should lead to war. Great wars come when both sides believe they are more or less equal, and when each thinks he has a good chance of victory."

Both statesmen subscribe to the thesis that the democracies, while seeking peace, should keep their powder dry and be firm. Each recognizes the possibility of there being "two worlds" and not one.

As a matter of fact we have "two worlds" already, so that our inquiry resolves itself into whether there is any hope of achieving "one world." We can say right at the start that there is no possibility of reconciling totalitarian communism and democracy. The two are as far apart as the poles. Therefore we seem to face the startling theory that a completely unified world could be achieved only when one or the other had been found wanting and had died a natural death.

LONG-TERM VIEW

However, we are getting ahead of ourselves. The first thing to be achieved is not "one world," but "two worlds" which are at peace. Technically we are at peace now but practically we are not, for the Bolshevik world revolution is in full swing. That must be stopped, and it must be stopped without another global war. That probably can be achieved by rehabilitating western Europe through the Marshall plan so that the democracies can defend themselves against the Bolshevik offensive.

If the Communist upheaval can thus be halted, we shall have "two worlds"—not friendly but still not shooting at each other. Then we can begin to think about "one world." Many observers—and your columnist is one of them—believe that present-day communism, which is Bolshevism, cannot endure as an imperial power. That is so because it deprives the individual of personal privileges and places him under police government.

The small countries of eastern Europe which are under Red domination have been communized by force. Every one of these peoples is liberty-loving and has fought for freedom more than once through the centuries. And the logical conclusion would seem to be that either communism will purge itself of totalitarianism and adopt democracy, or the police-ruled peoples will in due course take the matter into their own hands.

So there is no need to despair of achieving a peaceful "one world," though it won't come tomorrow.

Oak Bay Boulevard Upkeep $17,000; Taxes Only $7,000

Oak Bay collects only $7,000 in taxes annually for upkeep of its boulevards on which $17,000 is spent in maintenance, it was revealed at a meeting of the municipal council Wednesday evening.

The subject arose over a proposal from A. W. Riddell and 11 others that the boulevard tax on part of Victoria Avenue be cancelled.

The council had agreed to seek the advice of the municipal solicitors on the matter, when Councillor C. C. Annett observed the gap between the taxes collected and the cost of upkeep.

A. S. G. Musgrave, municipal engineer, said the taxes had originally brought in $3,500 annually but that increased taxes, ordered last year, had brought the income to its present level of $7,000.

R. F. Blandy, municipal clerk, said the real trouble was a legal one ... the only tax allowed was one to cover cutting grass and trimming trees and shrubs. However, he said, a section of the Municipal Act provided for street maintenance, including watering, and this made room for the allocation of a certain amount of money from the general fund toward boulevard upkeep.

So far as Mr. Musgrave was concerned, the only way to bring about any rectification of the discrepancy between the boulevard tax collected and the cost of upkeep was to raise the taxes again.

Hoboes Learn Their 'King' Going To Work

HOLYHEAD, Anglesey, Eng. (Reuter) — Britain's economic crisis struck home at carefree hoboes today when they learned their self-styled "king," Fred Husband, had set off on his last tramp, his destination a factory.

Husband, a trained engineering worker who became a tramp to "get a better deal" for his fellow hoboes, is walking from Holyhead to Coventry to take up his old job again.

"The country needs men like me in the present crisis," he said.

They'll Do It Every Time

A grant of $25 to the Monterey P.T.A. to aid the holding of a Halloween party in the Monterey school auditorium for the school children of that district was approved by Oak Bay council Wednesday evening.

Councillor G. Murdock suggested to Oak Bay council Wednesday evening that permits to light rubbish fires should not be issued for Mondays, which, he pointed out, was the day on which most Oak Bay women hung out their washing to dry.

Place For Women In Civic Affairs

"There is a definite place in civic affairs for more than one woman," Mayor Percy E. George told members of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club at their meeting Wednesday evening.

"As business and professional women you can do much to see that public spirited women are produced to run for office."

Mayor George gave a brief but interesting talk on civic affairs, sketching the framework of civic government, its elected representatives and its standing committees. He also told briefly some of the difficulties encountered by the civic council in operation of civic affairs, especially in setting the mill rate and bringing down the budget.

A question period followed the mayor's address.

Miss Minnie Beveridge, president of the club, introduced the speaker and presided at a short business meeting which followed the address. Mrs. Madge Hall expressed the thanks of the meeting to Mayor George.

It was decided in business session to set up a special fund where members could make individual contributions to the Unitarian Relief organization.

Singers Tour Australia, Also Alaska

Mrs. J. L. Mara, centre, with her house guests, Miss Victoria Anderson, left, and Miss Viola Morris, who have just completed concert engagements in Australia and Alaska.

"We're not here officially,"

Miss Viola Morris, half of a clever singing team known on the concert stage as the English duo, tells you.

"We're just taking a few days off to rest."

Miss Victoria Anderson, the other half of this talented singing pair, adds with an expressive wave of her hands, "and believe me, we need the rest."

"Since we started this tour we have covered a lot of ground. New York to San Francisco. To Australia by air. Ten weeks of concerts out there then back to San Francisco and north to Alaska by plane."

"These two days in Victoria have been perfect. We've done nothing but relax and rest."

The singers are the guests of Mrs. J. L. Mara at her home on Pemberton Road.

They have come back from their concert tour enthusiastic over Australian audiences.

MUSIC HUNGRY

"The population down there is hungry for music," Miss Morris says.

"Before the war they were isolated because the traveling distance was so great. Airplane services have now cut travel time from six weeks to a little over 38 hours, and they are getting a steady flow of outstanding artists—one concert and sometimes two in a week in the big centres—and they are supporting them all."

Returning from Australia, the English duo had the unique experience of being the first professional concert singers to appear in concert in Juneau and in Sitka, Alaska. They sang to crowded houses in both instances.

"We also gave a concert at a college in Sitka," Miss Anderson explains, "for Eskimau and Indian children."

"They were the cleanest, brightest-eyed children. Yes, and the healthiest children you could wish to see. Some came from islands near Siberia. All of them knew music and were attentive and appreciative."

Miss Morris and Miss Anderson appeared in concert and on the radio in Vancouver following their return from Alaska. They return to Vancouver tonight for another broadcast and will then go to San Francisco for 10 days before returning to New York.

"Next time we come west," they chorus, "we hope to sing in Victoria."

Embossed Taffeta In Bridal Gown

Canon A. E. Greenhalgh officiated at the wedding ceremony at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields Wednesday evening when Dorothy Frances, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Toms, 810 Gladia Avenue, became the bride of Vernon Joseph Groves, son of Mrs. May E. Groves, 2891 Austin Avenue, and the late Edward I. Groves.

The bride wore a gown of white embossed taffeta fashioned on princess lines with neckline, lily point sleeves, and slight train. Her veil of illusion net was fastened to a coronet headdress, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and red roses. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

As maid of honor, Miss Eleanor Smith of Port Alberni wore a gown of gold crepe with matching hat and carried an arm bouquet of mauve chrysanthemums.

Two other senior attendants, Mrs. Mary Lee Bacchus, of Vancouver, and Mrs. Phyllis Clarkson, sister of the bride, chose identical gowns of coral crepe with matching hats and gloves, and arm bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums.

Nieces of the bride, Doreen Toms and Joan Clarkson, were flower girls in turquoise crepe frocks and matching hats, with Colonial bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Robert Bacchus, who was best man and ushering were Roy Strable and Jack Southern. During the ceremony Douglas Park sang "All Joy Be Thine."

At a reception held at Lincoln Manor, Belmont Avenue, Mrs. Toms and Mrs. Groves received the guests, and a toast to the bride was proposed by Arthur Walker. Mrs. E. Hampton, aunt of the groom, presided at the urns.

For a honeymoon in Portland the bride wore a grey gabardine suit with matching topcoat, grey off-the-face hat, wine accessories, and a corsage bouquet of gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Groves will reside in Vancouver, where the groom is on the staff of radio station CKWX.

High Food Costs Discussed At Women's Round Table

Four able speakers, all executive members of the Victoria Home Economics Association, appeared in the panel discussion, "Your Purchase Dollar," at the first meeting of the Women's Round Table, held at the City Hall, Wednesday evening.

The panel was presented in the novel form of an informal gathering at the home of Mrs. A. B. Young, a mother with one school child and a preschool child.

Mrs. R. S. Martin, a mother with a small baby, living in a rural area; Miss Yvonne Love, who lives in light-housekeeping rooms, and Miss Doris Noble, who boards, all took part with Mrs. Young in a down-to-earth discussion of the problem of the increasing costs of food and the challenge it offers to the Canadian housewife.

Baskets of staple foods were shown to compare prices of food items in 1938 and 1947 and a general discussion followed regarding the causes for the rise in prices.

"How are we going to feed our families properly on the same amount of money that we had before prices went up," was the question thrown out by Mrs. Young, and then she added, "and still keep them healthy and happy?"

"There is a definite challenge to the housewife of today in that question," Miss Love said, "and I suggest that Canada's food rules are the best guide for meeting this problem of supplying the essentials for health."

Practical points in facing rising food costs brought out in the discussion included planning menus and market orders in advance on the same basic pattern; planning efficient use of fuel, with thought to foods best prepared with various styles of stove heat, electric, gas, or coal and wood; planning a wise use of leftovers and the planning of a home garden where fresh, wholesome, economic food can be raised.

Miss Olive Heritage acted as discussion chairman. A question and answer period followed the discussion.

Communists In North Greece Recruit Forces At Gun-Point

By DANIEL DE LUCE

XANTHI, Greece (AP) — Terror is the big gun of the Greek Communist rebellion.

A trip through Macedonia and Thrace in northern Greece is enough to dissipate any aura of patriotic heroism around the campaign of Markos Vafiades, general of the so-called Greek Democratic Army.

Communist propaganda paints Vafiades as a kind of mountain warrior-saint, fighting for his down-trodden people against British-American occupiers and Greek "monarcho-fascists."

From close up, however, his warfare appears to be a more cruel torment for the Greek masses than was the Axis conquest.

SALONIKA OVERCROWDED
Here is testimony from trustworthy sources that bears on the general picture:

From villages in northern Greece which Vafiades' Andarte—rebels—have mercilessly raided, 220,000 old men, women and children have crowded into Salonika and other towns where there is security under the Royal Greek army.

Thousands of acres will not be sown with winter wheat, which Greece will need desperately next year, because the Andarte have driven off the farmers.

Young Greeks, both boys and girls, are "recruited" by the Andarte at the rate of several hundred a week, under threat of death.

Despite the fog of propaganda and counter-propaganda enveloping the Greek struggle, there is evidence to support these basic observations:

The rebels are Greek. There is

1,446,959 Cases Of Salmon Canned

Operations of salmon canneries in British Columbia for the 1947 season at last week-end had totaled 1,446,959 48-pound cases.

This production, given by the chief supervisor of western fisheries, has been exceeded during the past five years only by production in 1945 and 1942.

The output is made up as follows: Sockeye, 285,352 cases; springs, 9,602 cases; steelheads, 3,216 cases; bluebacks, 4,541 cases; coho, 134,684 cases; pinks, 599,615 cases, and chums, 409,945 cases.

International Soccer To Be Revived On Large Scale

TORONTO (CP) — International soccer on a large scale will get under way for the first time in the Americas Saturday at Toronto's Oakwood Stadium when a Canadian team, featuring three British-trained key-men, faces an All-Star United States eleven.

Saturday's game will be the first step in a campaign to place North American soccer on a par with the game in Europe and the British Isles and to give it a crowd-drawing power equal to rugby football and baseball.

Next year a Canadian all-star team, selected by committee of the Dominion Football Association in all provinces except New Brunswick, will meet a U.S. all-star team in St. Louis for the Traynor Trophy. The award is donated by Col. Traynor, wartime aide to Gen. Eisenhower, as a result of interest Traynor acquired in soccer in Britain during the war.

"Within two years" a North-South American championship will be played in North America when a South American team, probably from Chile, is expected to come north, James Edmonds, local head of the D.F.A., predicted today. The North American defender may be a Canadian team since Canada is a member of the Pan-American Soccer Association.

Leading the forward line of the Dominion All-Star team selected from Ontario and Quebec, will be a British-trained trio consisting of Hugh Godley of Montreal Stelcos, John McMahon of Montreal Carsteel and Les Medley of Toronto's professional Greenbacks.

Godley was with Britain's Hull City team, while McMahon played with Wolverhampton Wanderers and Medley was a Tottenham Hotspur veteran.

Individuals Star In Table Tennis Play

With an entry list of 12 teams, largest in the history of the association, another banner season is expected by officials of the Victoria and District Table Tennis League.

Eight of the squads saw action this week, with Robinson's Grocery taking out a 19 to 17 win over Rovers in a thrilling exhibition. It was through no fault of former junior ace, Eric Goodwin that Rovers dropped the issue, as he captured eight games for a fine performance.

Art Ngai, city junior titlist, led Arrow Furniture to a 21 to 15 victory over Foul Bay, as the Chinese flash won eight games. Ruth Payne captured six decisions for the losers.

With Robbie Morris and Jack Seelhouse each winning seven out of eight games, Maple Leafs edged Paddlers, 19 to 17, in a close contest. Eric Seel won the decision in six contests for Paddlers.

Pacing Aces to a win over Slashers, Eddie Ngai won all his eight bookings, while Bill McGreggor and Garth Corke captured 12 of Slashers' games. Games next week will be played Monday and Thursday with six teams participating each evening.

Jamaica Park Race Meeting Threatened By Strike Of Grooms

NEW YORK (AP) — The Jamaica race meeting was scheduled to offer its second day's program today despite a strike of grooms and exercise boys and an accompanying sympathy walkout of van drivers that resulted in greatly reduced fields.

The strike, which began at noon yesterday, was staged by several hundred of the backstretch help, who are seeking union recognition, $50 a month more pay and better dormitory and eating conditions.

The Teamsters' Union (A.F.L.), Local 814, claims membership among about 700 of the nearly 1,200 employees of the various stables at the three New York tracks.

Meanwhile, a special mediation committee appointed by Mayor William O'Dwyer reported that "definite progress" has been made toward ending the dispute. The conciliation panel includes sports writers Dan Parker and Arthur Daley and John Sloan, former chairman of the New York State Racing Commission.

Canada's Olympic Puck Representatives Chosen

REGINA (CP) — The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association came up last night with the answer to the $64 question—and Canada is to compete in the Olympic winter games. An R.C.A.F. hockey team will represent the Dominion.

Smoke over the issue—competition according to Olympic rules or no participation at all—has waged across the whole of North America, the Atlantic and half of Europe.

But president Al Pickard of the C.A.H.A. said argument over the definition of an amateur could not be allowed to cause the home of hockey to go unrepresented at Olympic championships of its own sport.

The games are to be played at St. Moritz, Switzerland, next January and February.

Given a free hand by the Canadian Olympic Games committee to pick a team representative of Canada, the C.A.H.A. chose the R.C.A.F., an organization not inexperienced in hockey, to provide its answer.

WON CANADIAN TITLE

The R.C.A.F. already has provided championship hockey teams. In 1941-42, R.C.A.F. Flyers of Ottawa captured the Allan Cup, emblematic of the Dominion's amateur hockey championship. An England-based R.C.A.F. team later made a successful tour of the continent.

Pickard's statement said the R.C.A.F. team will have its headquarters in Ottawa, training both there and at Camp Borden, Ont.

Those in the know speculate that Cpl. Frank Boucher of the R.C.A.F., stationed in Ottawa, might coach the team. Boucher is a nephew of coach Frank Boucher of the National League's New York Rangers, and son of George Boucher, coach of the Quebec Senior League's Ottawa Senators.

Another name suggested was George McFaul, also in the R.C.A.F., and trainer of a number of Ottawa teams.

Though a fast ball, last night's announcement "did not catch R.C.A.F. headquarters in Ottawa entirely off guard."

"The best possible prospects" will be culled from force personnel throughout the Dominion, a spokesman said.

TO PLAY IN OTTAWA

Ottawa hockey sources said that already it was known the Olympic team would play in Ottawa City Hockey League, where other participants are an army and two civilian teams—Hull Volants and Burgs, both of recognized calibre.

Pickard made it clear, however, that Canada has not abandoned the fight for a broader interpretation of amateurism.

"The C.A.H.A. will continue to press for a more liberal definition, believing that the present definition tends to encourage hypocrisy and under-the-table dealings with which the association wishes no part," his statement read.

BUTTON GOLF

Ted Colgate and Laurie Kerr, city golf button holders since April, will play in defence of the title for the eighth time at the Colwood Golf Club Sunday in a match that should be one of the best of the series. Opponents will be Vic Painter and Bill McColl, clubmates of the high-flying duo. Time of the match is 1.30.

HERMANSKI AT SCHOOL

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Gene Hermanski, outfielder of the National League champion Brooklyn Dodgers, has switched his glove and spikes for work sheets and textbooks. The Brooklyn star now is a business student at Seton Hall College where he is enrolled under the G.I. bill of rights.

Sports Highlights

NEW YORK (AP) — Jackie Robinson, negro first baseman of Brooklyn Dodgers, is appearing in person at a theatre in Harlem. The word is that Jackie will receive $50,000 for a motion picture he is scheduled to make or juvenile delinquency.

TENNIS JOTTINGS

With the Australian and South American tennis season beginning next month, United States stars are in demand for tournaments to be held in the southern hemisphere. . . . Doris Hart and Mrs. Patricia Canning Todd of the United States Wightman Cup team which walloped a United Kingdom set this summer, are expected to head for Brazil and Argentina next week. . . . Frank Parker, the Pan-American champion now defending his title at Mexico City—where Canadians entered have not fared well—is expected to make the trip along with Francisco Segura, the Ecuadorian who attends the University

ANNOUNCEMENT that the Western-International Baseball League would hold a closed meeting in Seattle Sunday to ratify the sale of certain W.I.L.

clubs to Coast League Clubs and other interests brings to mind

developments in the diamond pastime that have gone by unnoticed since the lights were turned off at Athletic Park over a month ago. Avid baseball fans who regularly read the baseball

bible—The St. Louis Sporting

News—probably noticed in last week's edition the glowing tribute paid to Athletic first-sacker Jack

Harshman by Lefty O'Doull, manager of the San Francisco

Seals. Harshman, who wound up the season with the San Diego

Club after the close of the W.I.L.

schedule, saw limited action with the Padres being used mainly in a pinch-hitting role. Nevertheless, when he did get in the game as a regular he garnered his share of base hits.

O'DOULL stated the 20-year-old

Harshman who led the W.I.L.

in all slugging departments, was the best prospect he had seen in that circuit this season and that he, O'Doull, would like to get his hands on Harshman.

Coming from O'Doull, this is praise, indeed, as he is rated a fine judge of baseball talent and one of the most astute managers in minor league ranks. Judging by those remarks it isn't likely that Harshman will be back next year. Not that it was expected

he would be, but with certain improvements being contemplated at the Caledonia enclosure for next season, Jack would have had a great chance to break the home-run mark that eluded him this past year. Present plans call for a 20-foot fence to be erected in right field. The new barrier would run at right angles

from the right-field foul line, 350 feet from home plate, to the center-field fence just inside the last

BESIDES affording left-handed sluggers a better opportunity of parking one out of the lot the erection of the new fence will also improve lighting facilities in the right-field sector. No increase in the number of arcs is planned but less area will be covered by those installed at present than was the case in the past. Fans will remember the trouble that outfielders used to have with fly-balls, particularly on hazy nights, in the right-field corner during the last two seasons. Gone also will be those sizzling line drives that often rolled to near the 451-foot mark for home runs. Other changes include moving the bleachers from right field to left field and improving the present scoreboard.

TO DATE Victoria has been assigned the contracts of 15 new players for the 1948 campaign.

The club still holds the contracts of 14 of last year's club. Latest news involving one of the Athletics comes in an announcement from

Reg Patterson that Ley Righetti

has been traded to Binghamton of the class A Eastern League for Charlie Balassi, an infielder.

Red Wings Score Easy Win Over Black Hawks

The National Hockey League opened its season last night with a casualness that seemed anti-climactic after the fanfare accompanying the all-star game Monday night. In the first encounter of the long season which ends March 21, Detroit Red Wings held off a late Chicago rally to beat the Black Hawks 4 to 2 in an unexciting game. A disappointing crowd of 10,883 was on hand, one of the smallest for a Detroit hockey opener in years.

More action is expected tonight when New York Rangers open at Montreal Canadiens, winners of the league title last season.

The Red Wings forged to the front at Detroit last night mainly on the fine work of rookie left-winger Jim McFadden, who rammed in two goals to help give his clubmates a 3 to 0 edge in the second period.

Both teams were minus stalwarts, Chicago's Bill Mosienko having been hurt in the all-star game and Detroit's forward Roy Conacher having been left high and dry on a salary hitch. The Red Wings' first holdout in years, he failed to reach an agreement by game time and was not permitted to dress.

BENTLEY SCORES TWO
Jim Conacher rapped in Detroit's other goal of the second period. Their fourth score came late in the final frame when Bep Guidolin banged it in with four minutes to play. Both Chicago markers came from the stick of Max Bentley, who fired them home at the pay-off end of solo rushes.

Meanwhile, the experts who look to the Stanley Cup winning Toronto Maple Leafs to provide the main opposition for Montreal's rambunctious Canadiens, puckered their brows over the surprising defeat the Leafs suffered at Kingston last night from the fast-skating Montreal Royals.

Royals, Canadian senior amateur champions, downed the world champions 5 to 4 in an exhibition game in aid of the Hockey Hall of Fame Fund.

The LeTourneur-Jacoby team moved into the lead from fourth position in the field of nine teams while the duo of Bill Anderson of Cleveland and Stanley Bransgrove of Australia advanced from last to third place.

Hamilton's Mechanical Men Play Football By The Book

HAMILTON (CP)—Right down to the book Hamilton Wildcats play their football by, Frank Gnuip has everything figured for his mechanical men, who march on the field and march off again with Ontario Rugby Union victories with amazing regularity.

The stocky, cigar-smoking Philadelphian, who looks and talks like the typical gridiron coach with his close-cropped hair and well-worn windbreaker, runs his Cats like a business executive, recording their past and charting their future in a book where the effectiveness of each and every play they used this season is analyzed.

"When you know where you've been, it's that much easier to figure out where you're going," explained Gnuip (between puffs) after the Wildcats turned in their seventh victory in as many games in the six-team O.R.F.U. by knocking off Toronto Balmy Beach Saturday.

An ordinary stenographer's notepad, the book wouldn't be much good in wrong hands because it identifies plays only by code number, giving the ball-carrier, yardage gained and the reason why the play did or didn't work. But, compiled from game records kept by an assistant, it's invaluable to Gnuip because he sees a good-50 per cent of each game only from his backfield post.

KEEPS NOTEBOOK

The book is one evidence of the methodical way the 27-year-old Gnuip, who turned down a professional contract with Buffalo to come to Hamilton, is gunning for a Grey Cup title in his second season as playing coach. Another is his two-team system.

The Cats are divided into two teams of 12, with eight substitutes for the lot under O.R.F.U. rules permitting 30 men to play, and except when injuries call for single replacements, a whole new team is sent in at a time. Each squad is balanced so that there is no No. 1 or No. 2 team, points out Gnuip, who himself plays on what is usually the "alternate" 12.

The only import on the team last season, he has the full quota of five Americans this year. But he didn't choose stars, just four youngsters who fit into the system. They're all from around Niagara Falls and nearby Tonawanda, N.Y.—centre Fred Gabriel, outside Ed Rudsinke and backfielders Tony LaBarbera and Joe Moretto.

HOME PRODUCTS

The remainder are mostly Hamilton boys—such rising youngsters as Mel Lawson, rated one of the best passers in Canada, and his pass-receiving brother Gord, Rangy Bill Murnymlick, loose-legged Don Toms and Ben Dyack and Frank Moroz, both battling backfielders.

To Gnuip, it's "gobs of heart and some brains" that make football players. But his players are no slouches in the brains department, judging from their precision play. They run off beautifully-masked plays equally as well from the old single-wing back or T-formation backfield systems, the latter sometimes never worked well by many teams because the fact the quarter handles the ball on every play calls for perfect timing.

Asia's 'Mata Hari' Tried For Aiding Japs

PEIPING (AP)—The so-called "Mata Hari of Asia," a Manchurian-born princess, went on trial today charged with spying for Japan.

The accused is the daughter of the late Manchu Prince Su. A foster daughter of a Japanese, she took the name of Yoshiko Kawashima.

Hundreds of excited Chinese jammed the court, which was held in the open in what resembled an improvised stockade. The once-glamorous Chinese spy drove up in a heavily-guarded automobile. Her hair was cropped close like a man's, and she wore a turtle-necked sweater.

REGINA (CP)—Saskatoon Quakers last night won their first game in the Western Canada Senior Hockey League's 1947-48 season, defeating Regina Caps 7 to 2. It was the first game for Caps as well.

Wants Cities Represented On Transit Mediation Board

The three cities of Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster should be represented on any arbitration or mediation board which may be set up under the Industrial Disputes Act to settle the impending strike of street railwaymen which will tie up urban transportation in the three centres, Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the city transportation committee, said today.

Ald. Diggon said he was still awaiting word from the union officials, who are meeting in Vancouver today, as to whether they would accept the findings of such a commission. He said he understood that Victoria union officials had flown to Vancouver to attend the meeting.

He said he understood that the B.C. Electric Company president,

A. E. Grauer, had already indicated the company would accept the findings of a mediation board on the wage dispute.

In giving reasons why he felt the cities' representatives should form the personnel of such a board, with a government-named legal adviser, Ald. Diggon said that "the company supplies the equipment, and the men sell their labor to the company, but neither could operate without municipal franchise, and streets."

He continued: "The general public is as much concerned in this as the union or the company. It is not like an ordinary private business; it is a public utility and the public, through its representatives, must have a say in the issue."

To Establish New Bus-Loading Zones As Trams Come Off

Uniform "far-side" bus stops are to be established progressively throughout the downtown area of Victoria as the streetcars are taken off and buses substituted, Ald. J. D. Hunter, public works chairman, announced following a meeting of his committee with the transportation committee.

The first of these new loading zones will be ready for Nov. 1, when 21 new buses are put on routes.

In addition, he reported, in order to eliminate traffic hazards as far as possible, as soon as Flanhard Street between Pandora Avenue and Cormorant Street is surfaced, all west-bound bus traffic on Pandora Avenue will turn at Blanshard, proceeding to Douglas. This will eliminate the left-hand turn of buses on Douglas at Pandora.

However, until the Fernwood streetcar line is discontinued, streetcars will continue to make the left-hand turn at Pandora and Douglas, he explained.

A left-hand turn will be permitted at Port and Douglas Streets for south-bound traffic wishing to turn east. No other left-hand turn will be permitted.

at this intersection and traffic signals will be installed.

The city engineer's department was instructed to repair portions of roads on new bus routes to be established as the streetcars are taken off the streets to permit the better operation of the buses, he stated.

Women Canvassers Of Chest To Meet

W. C. Mainwaring, chairman of the Community Chest canvassing committee, will address a meeting of all women canvassers Friday afternoon at Prince Robert House at 230.

Miss Sara Spencer, vice-chairman of the canvassing committee, will act as hostess at the tea which will follow the meeting, and all ladies who have already enlisted as canvassers, or who are willing to be invited to the tea.

At least 150 more canvassers are needed for the chest campaign, officials state, to join the 400 who have already enlisted.

The campaign for $130,000 will start Monday and continue for two weeks.

Ald. B. J. Gadsden has been named by Mayor Percy George to be the city representative on the Victoria Arm and Portage Inlet Improvement Association.

Naden Variety Show Written By Local Navy Petty Officer

Nearly 1,000 R.C.N. personnel and their guests Wednesday evening jammed H.M.C.S. Naden drill hall to see "Autumn Revue," a variety show written and produced by P.O. F. Cooper, a member of the naval service here.

The revue had all the ingredients for all-round entertainment. There was slapstick comedy, singing and dancing. Musical numbers were played by Naden's band, under the direction of Lieut.-Cmdr. H. Cuthbert.

P.O. Cooper acted as master of ceremonies. Lieut. W. Hunt was supervisor and Lieut. Cmdr. Cuthbert musical director in the show, the first in a series. It is hoped to take the show on the road soon, although it was planned primarily for the entertainment and benefit of new entries at the base.

Performers included Mrs. Verna Moore, Victoria, who has just completed a professional singing tour, and dancers from the Florence Clough Dancing Academy.

In attendance at the show were Rear-Admiral E. R. Mainwaring, Commanding Officer Pacific Coast, and Mrs. Mainwaring, and Commodore and Mrs. J. C. I. Edwards.

Police Quick To Locate Bonds Left In Vancouver Hotel

An agitated man communicated with the city detective department yesterday afternoon on his arrival here from Vancouver.

He had left his Vancouver hotel... was not sure which one it was, only that it was an hotel next to the Marine on Cordova Street. He had left his room, No. 23, leaving behind his money belt with $1,150 in Victory Bonds in it.

He contacted city police about his predicament and Vancouver's plainclothes department was immediately telephoned. Less than 40 minutes later return phone call from Vancouver informed the nervous gentleman that his belt with the bonds in it had been recovered.

However, while the amount the man said was in the belt amounted to $1,150, Vancouver police reported the belt contained only $1,050 worth of bonds.

The city station visitor went away pleased with the quick action of the police to avert a possible loss.

Plan To Improve Oak Bay Lighting

A program of improvement of Oak Bay's street lighting system is now in the planning stages and will probably be carried out by next year's council, it was indicated by Councillor P. A. Moir, public works chairman, at a meeting of Oak Bay Council Wednesday evening.

Councillor Moir made the statement following a request from Lorne Terrace residents for improved lighting. The councillor said his committee realized lighting conditions were inadequate in the municipality and that a program was under way for their improvement.

The Lorne Terrace request was referred to the incoming council.

Barrett Harvey, 1018 Oliphant Street, has written the City Council suggesting that the stop sign on the northwest corner of Cook and Haultain Streets be shifted to the southeast corner, where he feels it will be of more value in eliminating traffic hazards.

Talented Artists Presented In Musical Arts Concert

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON A varied and well-balanced program, featuring some of the city's most talented artists and the popular "Meistersingers" choral group, marked the opening, Wednesday night, of the 1947-48 season of the Victoria Musical Art Society.

Through the kindness of His Honor, the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. C. A. Banks, the concert was held in the ballroom at Government House. The large member-audience was appreciative and happy to greet favorites of past concerts as well as promising new talent.

A very young instrumental trio (two violins and piano), consisting of Ann Robertson, Billy Abbott and Jan Garber opened the program, playing with excellent precision and faithful intonation. Their stage presence and poise were especially remarkable.

Vocal solos were given by Phyllis Corbett, soprano, and Rodger J. Manning, tenor. Miss Corbett's bright, pleasing voice lent itself very effectively to "The Castanets of Spring," by Besly and "The Dancing Lesson" (Oliver). Mr. Manning has great power and resonance and a good range. He was particularly happy with Rachmaninoff's "In the Silent Night" and in his presentation of Rabindranath Tagore's two poems cleverly set to music by John Alden Carpenter.

Mrs. Wilfrid Ord, who is distinguished in the realm of speech arts, gave a moving interpretation of three plaintive Irish poems: Padraic Colum's "Old Woman of the Roads," "Father Gilligan," by W. B. Yeats and "Mary Byrne," by Winifred Letts. Much enjoyed also, were her whimsical characterization of a scene from "Alice in Wonderland" and a bit of the "Quality of Mercy" speech from "The Merchant of Venice."

As a solo pianist, Joan Milloy has already won admiration by previous appearances on the society's programs. Those who expect great things of this young musician were not disappointed last night. There were discernable developments in her playing since she was last heard. Increased flexibility, deeper understanding, Miss Milloy played the Chopin B flat minor Scherzo and "Waltz Fiedermaus," Strauss-Schubert.

The Meistersingers never fail to give a great deal of pleasure. This compact male chorus, under their musicianly, vigorous conductor, Dudley Wickett, sing with zest, always maintaining a good blend of tone and excellent discipline. After singing two well-coordinated groups, which included "Lonely Woods," by Lully, "I Love Life," Fred Waring's pleasing arrangement of "Drink to Me Only" and a folk song, "The Peasant and His Oxen," they wound up the program by singing Australia's "almost" national anthem, "Waltzing Matilda," in a rousing manner.

The capable accompanists were Maquinn Anderson and Edgar Holloway.

Scottish Reunion Dinner Nov. 22

The second reunion dinner of the Canadian Scottish Regimental Association since the curtain was dropped on World War II will be held in the Kit Kat Club Banquet Hall on the evening of Nov. 22, it was reported today.

Date for the second edition of what will be an annual event was set at a recent meeting of the association, which has a membership roll open to any persons who have been associated with the regimental family—any of its battalions—right back to the first war.

Whether former wearers of the unit's Hunting Stewart tartan are listed on the 1947 roster of the association or not they are invited to attend the big get-together.

Appealing Against Refusal Of Striker To Produce Records

A point of law which may prove an important factor in the damage action of the Southam Co. Ltd., which is suing members of the composing room staff on strike in Vancouver since June 5, 1946, was argued before the Appeal Court today.

The legal point arose when litigating parties appeared before Mr. Justice Coady in an examination for discovery, pending the trial which is scheduled to start a week Monday. The plaintiff through its counsel, F. A. Sheppard, questioned one of the defendants, R. H. Neelands, a member of the Vancouver Typographical Union 226, and elicited from him the information that he was and had been for years the secretary-treasurer of the local union.

Neelands was asked to produce minutes, documents and letters of the union pertaining to the strike. He refused on the grounds that the documents were the property of the union and that he had been refused permission to part with them.

Mr. Justice Coady ruled that Neelands was in his right in refusing to submit the documents as they belonged to the union concerned, and Neelands was not entitled to deal with the records otherwise.

The Southam Press is now appealing against the decision of the trial judge and is seeking an order from the Appeal Court which would oblige Neelands to produce the records. The case is continuing. C. W. Tysoe is counsel for the defendants.

Province To Make Industrial Surveys Of Comox, Elsewhere

E. G. Rowbottom, deputy minister of trade and industry, said today that the Comox electoral district would be among the first to be attacked by regional development division of the trade and industry department which will shortly carry out industrial surveys of various areas of the province.

Surveying of Vancouver Island has been advocated for some time as being necessary to attract industries to the area to be served by the Campbell River development of the B.C. Power Commission.

The new branch of the department was set up recently when some activities of the former bureau of reconstruction were assumed. The proposed surveys of the new regional development division will be undertaken in 10 areas of the province.

Aim of the surveys is to produce first of all an industrial index showing information of interest to industry, such as existing manufacturing plants, natural resources, transportation facilities, available power and water supply and its source and cost, manpower and labor supply, climate and topography, population and service trades. An estimate of the industrial potential of each area will be indicated as far as possible.

The division in the surveys will work with the department's bureau of economics and statistics, the office of the trade commissioner, the travel bureau and the B.C. Research Council.

Field representatives of the division have been appointed at key centres and regional offices have already been established at Kelowna, Nelson and Prince George.

The former bureau of reconstruction had already established advisory committees of provincial officials in several areas as well as regional industrial committees on which industry had representation. This organization will be taken over by the new division and further stimulation and encouragement will be sought in the areas proposed for development. Co-operation of all municipal bodies, local organizations, transportation companies and industry generally will also be sought, and information will be drawn from the provincial and federal governments.

Directing the new division will be J. T. Gathrop, formerly secretary to the executive committee of the cabinet on reconstruction and secretary of the bureau of reconstruction.

To date 235 have registered for the city voter's list in the City Clerk's office. This is 11 more than registered at the same date last year.

Nothing has been found missing from a Fairchild Road home which was entered while the occupants were away during the last 3½ months, city police were informed. While there is no sign that entry was made to the building, O. Masters of Master's Bakery told police a skylight was broken out of the shed at the rear of the bakery last night.

Greater Victoria May Vote On Water Board In December

Citizens of Greater Victoria will have the final say on whether or not a metropolitan water board is set up, Ald. F. N. Cabeldu, chairman of the water board, said today.

He said he hoped to be able to submit a referendum to the ratepayers at the December elections on whether or not Victoria turned over its water supply system to the metropolitan board and supplied its share of funds for the development and improvement of the system.

At a meeting this morning, Dr. A. E. Cleveland, commissioner to investigate the water supply situation of south Vancouver Island, was authorized to call a meeting of representatives of Oak Bay and Saanich and place the metropolitan board plan before them.

Members of the Victoria board will attend this meeting if Dr. Cleveland wishes, Ald. Cabeldu stated.

He anticipated that the referendum would be put to the ratepayers of all four municipalities on the same basis as the transportation franchise by-law was submitted, with the three-fifths majority vote of all required before the metropolitan board could be set up.

Hart Pays Tribute To Pearson's Work As Labor Minister

Premier John Hart today paid tribute to the work of Hon. George S. Pearson who retired today as British Columbia's labor minister after 14 years almost continuous service.

In a statement issued following the ceremony in which Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer was sworn in as labor minister, Mr. Hart mentioned the "outstanding work that has been done by Mr. Pearson in modifying the labor laws of this province in order to bring about better working conditions for the employees and more harmonious relationships between the employer and his staff."

"During the 14 years, many outstanding reforms have been brought into effect, not the least of which has been the widening of the scope of the Workmen's Compensation Act, so as to increase benefits and bring within the jurisdiction of the act a greater number of employees," said Mr. Hart.

"Likewise, better working conditions in factories have been effected, hours of labor have been shortened, minimum wages increased and annual holidays with pay secured."

Mr. Hart said that choice of Mr. Wismer for the labor portfolio was made in view of the fact that the administration of labor affairs is very closely identified with legal matters.

"The keen interest that Mr. Wismer has taken in labor and his thorough knowledge of the various labor acts has made him peculiarly suitable for this portfolio," he said.

During the absence of Education Minister G. M. Weir, Mr. Wismer is serving as acting education minister.

Mr. Hart mentioned Mr. Pearson's work as head of the provincial secretary and health and welfare departments.

"Mr. Pearson, despite his recent illness, is devoting the greater part of his time to a study of the problems affecting public institutions and social welfare and will continue to give full time administration to these departments," Mr. Hart said.

Stan Kenton's Band Draws Large Crowd

Victoria's lovers of modern music turned out in mass Thursday night to hear Stan Kenton put his 20-piece "artistry in rhythm" through its paces in the Bay Street Armories. More than 2,000 persons were in attendance.

Playing most of his own jazz classics, Kenton gave variety to his program by including a number of Latin rhythms, bebop tunes and novelty numbers. June Christy, regular vocalist with the band, pleased the crowd with her renditions of such numbers as "How High the Moon?" and "Willow Weep for Me."

Surplus Buildings Sought To Provide Lumber For Homes

Esquimalt Council is anxious to acquire surplus buildings in the municipality from War Assets Corporation on Peter Street for the purpose of dismantling in order to provide war veterans building homes with much-needed lumber for their constructions. It was learned from Esquimalt Branch of the Canadian Legion last night.

Reeve A. I. Thomas has been negotiating for the buildings for this purpose in order to help alleviate the plight of veterans during the current materials shortage situation.

The Esquimalt branch, at its regular meeting, unanimously endorsed a motion of sincere thanks to the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council for its continuous drive to secure housing for veterans' families. Many hundreds of veterans had secured a roof over their heads as a result of the efforts of the council, it was pointed out.

An address on the forthcoming Poppy Day was given by Col. E. Parker. The meeting appointed F. Hickman to handle poppy sales within the dockyard. It was reported the women's auxiliary of the legion will hold a bazaar on the afternoon of Oct. 22 at 2.30. A bingo evening has been arranged for the same evening. A "Klondike Night" program is being arranged for Oct. 31.

PEDIATRICIANS RECOMMEND WHEAT GERM CEREALS

A prominent child specialist on the staff of one of the country's largest Children's Hospitals gives this advice: "Many of us, including our children, eat too little thiamine or Vitamin B₁. This is because we use too much sugar and low thiamine cereals."

If we would use whole-grain cereals instead, we would get plenty of thiamine, and in addition we would add valuable amounts of several other of the B Vitamins and of iron to our diets.

Another advantage of using generous amounts of the whole-grain products is that the cellulose in them helps to prevent constipation."

10th Traffic Death Victim Identified As Katherine Easson

A resident of the Aged Women's Home, 857 McClure Street, for two years, Katherine Easson, aged 77, died in Royal Jubilee Hospital at 5:35 this morning from a fractured skull suffered when she was in collision with an automobile at the intersection of Quadra Street and Burdett Avenue last night.

She was not identified until early this morning. Dr. Lloyd McNiven attended the injured woman.

According to city police the accident occurred at 8 in the evening. Mrs. Eason was crossing Burdett from north to south from the east side of Quadra when she was in collision with a car driven by Helen R. L. Palmer, Gibraltar, R.R. 1, east on Burdett. The death of the aged woman, who leaves no relatives in Victoria but nieces in Vancouver, was the 10th Victoria traffic death this year. This exceeds the whole of last year's toll from the same cause by two.

NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY

George A. Hardy of the Provincial Museum was the speaker at the monthly meeting of the Victoria Natural History Society on Tuesday evening, giving an account of a trip to Jordan Meadows. Although difficult to reach because of overgrown trails through heavy timber, Mr. Hardy described the area as a veritable botanist's paradise. Colored slides of some of the flowers and fungi common to the meadows, and specimens of insects found there, added interest to Mr. Hardy's talk.

Members were asked to note that as the regular meeting date for November would fall on Armistice Day, the society will meet on Nov. 18 instead.

Oak Bay council Wednesday night approved the request of the Remembrance Day committee to hold a tag day Nov. 8.

Approve Brief To Go To Ottawa On Gorge Canal Plan

Endorsement was given a brief that has been drafted to be presented to Ottawa urging building through from Esquimalt Harbor of the proposed canal to be cut to Portage Inlet, at a general meeting of the Victoria Arm and Portage Inlet Improvement Association held Wednesday night in Craigflower School.

The canal proposed, which would be about 1,500 feet in length across the narrow neck of land separating the two bodies of water, would have lock and sluice gates 150 feet in width. The scheme is to give Gorge and Portage waters new life via the canal, water being flushed out and clean water coming in.

John Day, who has championed the canal proposal for many years, presented the plan which was approved. He described his proposal in detail, noting the advantages that would result. Members of the Saanich, Esquimalt and city council—which have been strong supporters of the project—were in attendance. Alf Duplain presented the brief.

REMEMBER the days back in 1937 when a five-room house could be built for about $4300? Today that house costs around $8400. And because most houses are built mainly with lumber in British Columbia, lumber gets most of the blame for the increase.

Actually, softwood lumber represents only a little more than one-eighth of the cost of the $8400 house.

Study the costs as here set out from carefully-kept records of average experience.

Shortage of building materials have added to the contractor's costs. They have reduced his turnover in a year and have made his time and overhead chargeable to a smaller number of units completed.

This situation should gradually improve now that free market conditions have been restored in building materials.

Lumber for an $8400 house today costs 13.7% of the total as against 14.17% in 1937. The cost of vacant lots, of labor, plumbing, electrical work, painting, etc., etc., have all climbed.

Hello Funks!

"An important part of my diet ever since my first bottle has been Crown Brand Corn Syrup. Now, that may be all right for a little character like myself, but let me tell you, these grown-ups sure are lucky what with Mom serving them Crown Brand Corn Syrup with so many of their dishes. And she uses it in her baking, too, as a sweetener. I can hardly wait until I'm old enough to have some hot waffles or pancakes smothered with delicious Crown Brand. If it's as good as it is in my cereal—mmmmmm!"

For years doctors have recommended the use of Crown Brand Corn Syrup as a satisfactory carbohydrate acting as a milk modifier for bottle-fed infants.

'The Green Years' Showing At York

Even his closest associates had a hard time recognizing Charles Coburn in his remarkable make-up as Grandpa Gow in "The Green Years," M-G-M's adaptation of the A. J. Cronin best-seller novel, opening today on the York screen.

Cornel Wilde may yet get double billing in a motion picture—as star and author of the screen play.

'Duel In The Sun' Coming To Royal

"Duel in the Sun," David O. Selznick's giant technicolor production of 1880 Texas, comes to the Royal Theatre next Monday with one of the greatest all-star casts ever assembled for a motion picture.

Jennifer Jones, Gregory Peck, Joseph Cotten, Lionel Barrymore, Herbert Marshall, Lillian Gish, Walter Huston and many other screen celebrities give full play to their acting talents in this story of the era when the railroads first pushed across the wild lands of the Texas cattle kings. The film is released through Selznick Releasing Organization.

Burt Lancaster has made a conquest deep in the heart of the Van Johnson home territory.

The big, rugged new star received a telephone call from Culver City on the set of Hal Wallis' technicolor production for Paramount, "Desert Fury," which is now at the Capitol Theatre.

It was a spokeswoman for the messenger girls at M-G-M Studio. They wanted a large autographed photo of Burt to frame and hang in their office next to Van's.

"You haven't got freckles like Van, but we adore everything else about you," they said.

Burt mailed them the photo and promised to try to freckle.

Tobin, Meany Swing Convention Of A.F.L.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A New York plumber and a Boston coal wagon driver emerged today as the undisputed bosses of the American Federation of Labor convention.

Control of the convention for George Meany of the plumbers and Daniel J. Tobin of the teamsters carried with it virtual control of the 15-man policy-making executive council which will run the A.F.L.'s affairs from now until next fall, when the federation will meet again.

As the convention drew to a close today, delegates admitted the smoothly-operating machine of the 72-year-old Tobin and 53-year-old Meany was the big revelation of the convention.

Together Meany and Tobin overwhelmed John L. Lewis and William L. Hutchison with their votes. While Lewis created the fireworks with his effort to block what he called "dehydration" of the executive council, it was Hutchison who suffered most. He and his carpenters have ruled the federation since 1915.

Lewis and his United Mine Workers at no time had much of a chance to get support of the other delegates in their stand against signing non-Communist affidavits in an all-out defiance of the Taft-Hartley Act. The other federation leaders favored complying with the affidavit requirement so the weaker unions could have access to the protective machinery of the National Labor Relations Board.

Herring Canneries Working Full Blast

Herring canneries and reduction plants are in full swing today as good catches are being taken in the lower east coast of Vancouver Island region.

Weekly bulletin of the chief supervisor of western fisheries showed today that the canneries to date have produced 127,747 48-pound cases of herring. This represents the largest production to this date during the past four years.

The catch in District No. 3 at last week-end had totaled 8,575 tons green. All but 144 tons, which was taken in the Quathlaski district, was from the lower east coast area of Vancouver Island.

Reduction plant production is as follows: Herring meal, 368 tons; herring oil, 58,910 gallons; herring offal meal, 241 tons; herring offal oil, 48,878 gallons.

Penguin Meat Tested At Chicago May Give Science New 'Calendar'

NEW YORK (AP)—One hundred pounds of penguin meat that Admiral Byrd brought back from Antarctica in 1946 were tested at the University of Chicago to learn whether these birds are as radioactive as the people of Baltimore.

If so, science will have a new calendar for dating the works of man quite accurately for the last 40,000 years. This calendar will be radioactive carbon, and it will be a calendar because the carbon's rays decrease with clock-like regularity.

The calendar will date anything that was made of living tissue, such as wood, papyrus and a great many other objects left by ancient man. The fact these objects became petrified into stone does not interfere with the carbon clock's accuracy.

This radiation of the people of Baltimore is entirely harmless, and is presumed beyond a doubt to be equally true of everyone in any country.

Probably it is true also of every living thing in the world. But, taking no chances, the Chicago physicists are checking the penguins, because they are the forms of life farthest away. If there is any difference in these rays anywhere in the world, the penguins should show it.

This study is based on a startling discovery announced in June that the earth's air is filled with radioactive carbon, thinly spread, possibly enough to make 20,000 tons if put in one pile.

Radioactive carbon is the most valuable radioactive atom product made so far by the atomic ovens at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

The experiments revealed that each 150-pound person emits 150,000 radioactive rays a minute, on the average, from the radioactive carbon that he has absorbed, starting with the moment of conception, from food and water. The 100 pounds of penguin should show about 100,000 rays a minute.

Says Atomic Bomb A 'Has-Been' Now

TORONTO (CP)—The atomic bomb is a "has-been" as a weapon of war and known methods of bacteriological warfare provide the "final offensive weapon," Dr. G. Brock Chisholm, secretary-general of the World Health Organization, said Wednesday night.

Addressing a gathering of nearly 500 Toronto district teachers, the wartime director of the Canadian Army's medical services said even a small country using bacteriological warfare could "kill all living persons" on any continent very quickly.

"Any number of millions of human beings can be killed in a few hours by methods now available," he said. "It is impossible now to gauge a nation's war strength by its capacity to produce aluminum, guns, tanks and so on."

There was grave doubt in his mind "whether the major part of the human race will survive the next few years or not." The only hope is the development of "world citizens" in all countries whose first loyalties were not local or national but to the entire human race.

Jailed In Detroit For Illegal Entry

DETROIT (CP)—Clifford Omar Guay, a haberdashery salesman from Vancouver, B.C., entered jail today to serve an 18-month term for illegal entry into the United States.

The chances are that if Guay hadn't called police and told them he had entered the country illegally they never would have known.

But he thought it would be a good way to get sent back to Vancouver without paying fare. Guay became ill and homesick while in Detroit and told immigration authorities he had pre-

Princess Margaret Launches Liner

BELFAST (Reuter)—Princess Margaret, younger daughter of the King and Queen, celebrated her 17th birthday today by launching the 28,500-ton liner Edinburgh Castle—the first of official duty she has carried out alone.

The launching proceeded smoothly and the princess described it as a "wonderful experience." Congratulating the builders on "this latest example of the acknowledged supremacy of our shipbuilding," she said "I share with those who built the Edinburgh Castle their pride and pleasure in work well done."

When Tom Smyth, 17-year-old joiner's apprentice, presented a bouquet of pink roses to the Princess, she delighted the crowd by taking one of the flowers and giving it to him to wear.

The Princess, a slim, shy figure in a fawn coat, was cheered by a great crowd of workmen of the famous Harland and Wolff firm, builders of the Edinburgh Castle. She wore a double-breasted coat trimmed with moleskin fur, small-brimmed hat set off the forehead, and carried a moleskin muff.

BLACKPOOL—Blackpool, popular Lancashire holiday resort, has bought a hotel which will be used as a school for hotel-keepers.

No Big Offensive In Indo-China

PARIS (AP)—Reports that French troops had launched a full-scale offensive to crush Viet Nam republican forces in northern Indo-China were denied today by the French Foreign Ministry, which said that actual operations were on a small scale and casualties light.

In a formal statement, the ministry said French forces were taking measures to halt gun-running and they had "reoccupied certain sections to protect the population."

Dispatches from Hanoi Wednesday had quoted a French communique as reporting scattered engagements between French and Viet Nam forces in a wide area.

Call For Dismissal Of V.L.A. Official
VANCOUVER (CP)—The Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards, meeting in convention here, Wednesday adopted a resolution demanding the dismissal of Veterans' Land Act administrator Gordon Murchison.

The resolution, presented by the Alberta Real Estate Association, empowered representatives to Prime Minister King and Veterans' Affairs Minister Mackenzie, seeking amendment to permit real estate men to serve veterans in acquiring land under the act.

FACTS

You want to know about Canada Savings Bonds

Second Series

GENERAL	REGISTRATION	Q. How do I pay for Canada Savings Bonds?
Q. What is the price of Canada Savings Bonds?	Q. Why is it necessary to register Canada Savings Bonds?	A. In any of the following ways: 1. By payment in full at time of purchase 2. By regular deductions from pay if the Payroll Savings Plan is in operation at your place of employment 3. By monthly instalments or other arrangements with your bank, trust or loan company.
A. 100%. That is, a $100 bond costs $100. If payment is not completed on or before November 15th, 1947, interest will be added to the purchase price.	A. Registration gives protection in case your bond is lost, stolen or destroyed. It is also the simplest way to ensure that individuals do not hold more than the $1,000 limit.	Q. What is the Payroll Savings Plan?
Q. What interest is paid on Canada Savings Bonds?	Q. In whose name can Canada Savings Bonds be registered?	A. Under this Plan you place your order for Bonds with your employer. You pay for the Bonds by regular deductions from pay over a period which may extend to twelve months. You pay 100% plus a small amount of interest. After you have completed the final payment the Bonds are delivered to you with the first and all subsequent interest coupons attached.
A. 2 1/4%—payable yearly on November 1st from 1948 to 1957, by coupon cashable without charge at any branch in Canada of any bank.	A. They can be registered only in the name of one individual, adult or minor, up to the amount of the authorized limit. The registration must designate a Canadian address.	Q. What is the Official Monthly Savings Plan?
Q. In what denominations are Canada Savings Bonds available?	Q. Can Canada Savings Bonds be registered in the name of a child or cashed?	A. Under this Plan you make a down payment of 5% (i.e. $5 per $100 Bond) to your bank, trust or loan company. Then you pay the balance, including a small amount of interest, over the next eleven months, by regular monthly instalments. If, at any time during these eleven months, you wish to complete payment of the balance, you may do so.
A. $50, $100, $500 and $1,000.	A. Yes. Banks are familiar with the necessary regulations.	Q. Why am I required to pay interest on my purchase under the Payroll or the Monthly Savings Plan?
Q. Is there any limit to the amount of this Second Series of Canada Savings Bonds that one person may hold? If so, why?	Q. Can Canada Savings Bonds be disposed of when registered in the name of a deceased person?	A. Because the coupon payable November 1st, 1948, represents the interest you will receive as if you had paid for your bonds in full before November 15th, 1947. On the instalment plans, you are entitled only to interest on the amounts of your payments from the date you make them.
A. Yes. On this Second Series there is a limit of $1,000 for each individual, but each member of a family may hold bonds up to the limit. The favourable rate of interest and the advantage of immediate cashability make this limit necessary.	A. Yes. Any bank will supply the necessary information.	Q. What happens if I am unable to continue payments under the Payroll Savings Plan or Monthly Savings Plan?
Q. Can I replace my Canada Savings Bonds, if they are lost, stolen or destroyed?	Q. Can I replace my Canada Savings Bonds, if they are lost, stolen or destroyed?	A. If you have the cash, you may pay up the balance and receive your Bond. Otherwise, your employer, bank, or trust or loan company will redeem the bond for you and will refund your payments.
A. Yes. It is wise, however, to keep Canada Savings Bonds in a safe place, as you would any other valuable documents. Replacement requires a certain time so that proper safeguards may be set up. In case of loss you should immediately notify the Bank of Canada, Ottawa, of the circumstances of the loss, with details of denominations and serial numbers, if possible. If bonds have been lost or stolen, you should give the same information to your local police.	Q. Are interest coupons registered?
Q. Can Canada Savings Bonds be assigned or transferred?	A. No. They are payable to bearer.
A. They can be cashed, but not assigned or transferred. This is necessary to prevent any individual from acquiring more than the authorized limit.	Q. How long can I have my money in this Second Series of Canada Savings Bonds?
Q. How long can I have my money in this Second Series of Canada Savings Bonds?	A. Until November 1st, 1957. The bonds will be dated November 1st, 1947, and will mature November 1st, 1957.
A. They can be cashed, but not assigned or transferred. This is necessary to prevent any individual from acquiring more than the authorized limit.	Q. Can I cash my bond at any time before November 1st, 1957?
